Dear St. Bartholomew Family,

I truly am excited to be here with you now at St. Bartholomew Parish! What a blessing that the Lord has brought us together and given us this opportunity to grow in faith together and live out the Christian life in our community and beyond!

Now, to be sure, transitions are difficult. No one really enjoys change all that much, do they? But change also opens up the doors to new opportunities and when we lean into the Lord as changes unfold, He brings about blessings that we would never have dreamed of. And no doubt, He has such blessings in mind for us here at St. Bartholomew! So I very much look forward to getting to know you, to pray with you, to laugh with you, to cry and mourn with you- in a word, to share life in Christ with you. The Lord wants each and every one of us to become a saint and to transform the world in and through us, starting with our friends and families right here at home.

Therefore, let us support, encourage and build each other up in following Christ in all things, allowing Him to work through our differences, difficulties and struggles to bring about superabundant fruit. Let us embrace the change and opportunity before us and watch the blessings flow as we begin this journey together!

God bless,
Fr. Joe
